Frontdoor is a company that's obsessed with taking the hassle out of owning a home. With services powered by people and enabled by technology, it is the parent company of four home service plan brands: American Home Shield, HSA, Landmark, and OneGuard, as well as Candu Home Solutions, an on-demand membership service for home repairs and maintenance, and Stroom, a technology company that enables businesses to serve customers through an enhanced augmented reality, computer vision, and machine learning platform. Frontdoor serves more than 2.2 million customers across the U.S. through a network of approximately 17,000 pre-qualified contractor firms that employ approximately 60,000 technicians. The company's customizable home service plans help customers protect and maintain their homes from costly and unplanned breakdowns of essential home systems and appliances. With nearly 50 years of experience, the company responds to over 4 million service requests annually. For details, visit frontdoorhome.com.
